

MEET THE PRINCIPAL

Hello, Sandcats! My name is Cindy Davis. It is a privilege to join your team and work with you as we continue the great program at Collegiate American School. As an inaugural community of learners, our activities will guide the plans and drive the vision of this institution for years to come.

I have been in education for over 30 years. I taught fourth and sixth grade for 13 years and I have been a school administrator for 18 years. I have experience in special education and Title I Reading. I have an Education Specialist degree in Instructional Leadership from the University of North Alabama (UNA). I also have degrees in Educational Administration and Elementary Education. My favorite subjects to teach are English and Science. I love to use technology. But, most of all, I love the process of learning – anything.

I was born in Texas. My dad was a Navy helicopter pilot so my family moved around a lot. When I was in high school, my dad became a professor at the University and we settled in Alabama. I am very close to my family. I have an older sister, Becky, who lives in Florida. I have two younger brothers, Bret and Scott, who live in Alabama with their families. I have 4 nieces and 3 nephews.

I have three grown children. Ryne lives and works in Mobile. He is 6'5" (196 cm) and wears a size 15 shoe! He enjoys any sport, but is known for playing basketball. Taylor Anne lives and works in Mobile. She just graduated from college with a finance degree and loves being by the beach! Carly is a junior at the University of Alabama. She is a Phi Mu majoring in Fashion Merchandising.

One interesting fact that you can't tell just by looking at me is that I am totally deaf in my left ear. When I was about 15 years old I had a swimming accident that burst the cochlea in my ear. I had terrible vertigo and could not get out of bed for several weeks. My ear healed, but the nerve damage was too extensive to regain the hearing in that ear. Sometimes it's hard to tell from which direction a sound is coming!

When I am not teaching or planning awesome school activities, I like to practice Bikram Hot Yoga, read, be with my family, and be outside.

These are my favorite things:

Restaurant: Connors
Fast Food: Chipotle
Sport to watch: basketball
Sport to play: tennis
Color: Navy blue
Dessert: Coca-cola cake
Store: Target
Candy: Payday
Food: seafood
Pet: dog

